GROWERS TOBACCO FIGHT

(By Associated Press)
LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 4.—Following impassioned speeches by growers and threats against buyers, during which knives were drawn, the busy tobacco market here was closed shortly after the opening. Cooler heads among the hundreds of persons attending the sales prevented trouble. The growers declared that to accept the prices offered by buyers meant bankruptcy.

(By Associated Press)
LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 4.—All sales on the Lexington loose leaf tobacco market were called off for the day at 11 o'clock this morning. The low prices offered by buyers for the large tobacco manufacturing companies was the cause assigned.

EUROPE RELIEF MONEY FOR THE POLISH ARMY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—Forty millions of the $150,000,000 appropriated by congress for European relief was spent to "keep the Polish army in the field," Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, declared in the senate during a government economy discussion. Reed said he had documents to support his statement, and promised to discuss them at length later.

"Congress," Reed said, "gave the $150,000,000 into the hands of a single gentleman," whom the Missouri senator did not name. "This same gentleman, with unblinking efficiency," the senator continued, "tells us in a report that he spent $40,000,000 for support of the Polish army which was engaged in a war with a nation with which we were at profound peace."

FOUR SOLDIERS SHOT FOR STEALING FLOUR

(By Associated Press)
CRACOW, Poland, Jan. 4.—Four soldiers found guilty of having stolen nine sacks of American flour from army supplies were shot recently. The executions were carried out under a law passed by the diet last year making it a capital offense to steal from the army. A fifth soldier, also court-martialed in connection with the flour theft, was sentenced to prison, as it was shown that he had taken a minor part in the affair.

The famous Clifford mine, situated 40 miles in a northeasterly direction from Tonopah, has passed into the possession of a syndicate embracing New York bankers and people connected with some of the leading financial and industrial institutions of the country. The transfer was consummated late yesterday afternoon at the Nevada First National bank, when deeds and contracts signed by each and everyone of the numerous Clifford heirs were deposited by Howard A. Broughton of New York through whose efforts the negotiations were brought to a successful conclusion. This ends the first chapter in the most complex series of probate cases still holding the attention of the district court of Nye county.

Mr. Broughton is president of the Schuykill Mining company, operating the Tennessee zinc-silver mine at Chloride, Arizona, which during the recent war ranked as one of the greatest producers of its class. As an illustration of the intrepid enterprise of the owners, it may be stated here that after securing the property they expended $350,000 in work and improvements designed to promote efficiency. The fact that Mr. Broughton and associates have bought the Clifford mine free from family entanglements means that steps will be taken to establish it in the front rank of gold-silver producers. This carries with it the construction of a stamp mill with a cyaniding plant. No metallurgical problems are involved in the treatment, as the ore is tractable and amenable to the ordinary reduction process applied in Tonopah. Pending final examination and completion of the bond under which the mine was taken over, Mr. Broughton has given his earnest personal attention to the physical conditions underground which demand new and comprehensive development on a scale of magnitude that will adapt the property to the glorying or caving system of mining by which the enormous orebodies will be shot down at a nominal cost per ton. Water rights for a flow adequate for all possible milling demands have been acquired, and one of the first steps will be to begin installing five miles of six-inch pipe line. A complete compressor plant is at hand for immediate delivery and a powerful headframe will soon be on the way.

The Clifford group comprises 14 full claims on which development has been prosecuted to a depth of 200 feet in two shafts from which numerous small drifts and crevasses have been run without any special regard for co-ordination or economic operation. All laterals are in ore regardless of direction. The location was made by James W. Clifford and Edward Clifford, Sr., although the name of John Clifford appeared on the monuments. According to the records as shown by the settlement sheets of the Selby company and local mills, the mine has produced in excess of half a million dollars. During recent years the mine has been operated in desultory fashion by James W. Clifford, who was rewarded with fabulous values when he concentrated through the agency of a Tetrault mill installed at the mine. Some of the certified figures cause the eyes of experts to bulge from their sockets. For instance, one sack of concentrates weighing 142 1/2 pounds yielded $908.04, or at the rate of 226.12 ounces of gold and 14,238.37 ounces of silver to the ton.

That this was not an unusual find is demonstrated by a later report narrating that 400 pounds of concentrates netted the shipper $1435.30 with silver quoted at 48.7-8 cents. Another entry tells of 15 sacks of ore weighing 1640 pounds which netted $1742.76 with silver quoted at 59 cents. One of the more recent shipments of concentrates weighing 426.7 pounds returned $949.19 on the basis of a content of 7569.16 ounces of silver and 38.84 ounces gold per ton with silver at 68.5-8 cents. These are not book figures, as no books were kept, but are the concrete evidence furnished by settlement sheets from the Selby smelter.

The principal workings of the mine are represented by two shafts, each attaining a depth of 200 feet. The McCarthy shaft is situated on top of the hill and the second shaft is 80 feet lower down the hillside. The formation is an andesite with a rhyolite intrusion carrying values ranging from $18 to a silver content marked up in five figures. The buying organization did not take over GALLEY TWO—HED TO KUM—the mine on the strength of high-grade potentialities, but with the object of operating what Mr. Broughton believes will prove one of the most alluring milling propositions ever opened in Nevada. Even the waste that was dumped in backfilling carries good milling values, and apparently the entire formation is deeply impregnated and it is common to pick up specimen ore on the dump that rival nuggets in their gold content. At the bottom of the winze a cold-blooded sample taken from a width of three feet to a height of 13 feet returned $38.90 per ton and a width of nine feet gave $22.40 without any precaution about saving the fines. The sale of this valuable property is due to the tactful dealing of the late R. L. Hogue, the brilliant young mining engineer who lost his life while returning from examining the Nivloc mine near Silver Peak. James W. Clifford, who handled the negotiations for the estate and himself, had great confidence in Mr. Hogue, and this enabled Mrs. Hogue to carry on the negotiations where her husband had left off, with the eventual result of interesting Mr. Broughton and his wealthy associates. Great credit is due to these people for their labors in bringing about a condition whereby this valuable property may be brought into profitable production from which Tonopah will receive great benefit, for there has not in recent years been anything carried out in any mining promotion which will result in greater permanent benefit to this camp than the opening up and operation of the Clifford mine.
